THE CITIZENS MEETING.

Monday Night to Arrange for the Kentucky River Convention.

The citizens are showing a commendable interest in the Kentucky River Convention which has been called to meet here next Wednesday. Monday night, despite the inclement weather, there was a good attendance of the citizens at the court house to make the necessary preliminary arrangements for the convention, and the enthusiasm displayed was an indication of the earnestness with which this important matter has been seized upon.

Mr. Charles Exum called the meeting to order and Judge Lysander Hord, who has for years devoted himself to the interests of this river, was made chairman and Mr. M. P. Gray the secretary. Before entering upon the work in hand, Judge Hord addressed the meeting on the purposes for which it had been called and the object and scope of the convention fixed for next Wednesday. He said that if the people along this river and in this city could only be made to realize the great wealth of coal, iron, clays, timbers and building stones that were locked up awaiting the opening of the river by the improvement of the navigation, they would not hesitate to make the journey to Washington City in wagons, on horseback or foot, to urge the passage of a sufficient appropriation for the speedy completion of the work undertaken by the General Government, even as the California pioneers in 1849, in the midst of dangers, made their way across the trackless west in search of gold. He spoke of the necessity to show Congress that the people of this State, who since 1880, when the river was ceded to the General Government, had paid into the United States Treasury more than $100,000,000, were in earnest now in asking for a large appropriation to complete the locking and daming of a river which will return to the people a hundred fold benefits for the amount required to accomplish the work. The money that Kentucky has paid into the Treasury, he said, was used in building harbors and improving rivers in States which contain neither coal nor iron, and he thought, as it has been stated, that the Pennsylvania coal mines are becoming exhausted and more difficult to operate and the necessity is making itself felt, especially in this part of the Ohio valley, for a coal region to take the place of the Pennsylvania mines, that by proper effort on the part of the people interested, Congress could be brought to a realization of the importance of the Kentucky river as an outlet for a coal field of greater extent than Pennsylvania. He advocated the idea of a convention of the people and believed that such an expression of their will would be given the consideration due it by their representatives in Congress. A motion was then made that the following named gentlemen be made the committee on reception for the delegates who are to assemble here on the 18th inst:

Pat McDonald, J. W. Pruitt, Wm. McCloy, M. P. Gray, Jno. E. Miles, W. H. Newhall, Jr., Ed. M. Drane, Judge W. G. Williams, Judge L. Hord, R. C. Steele, A. H. Waggoner, Jerome Weitzel, C. F. Exum, Charles E. Haff, Jos. T. Staten, Daniel Lindsey and John W. Rodman, the city officials, and every other citizen who feels an interest in the movement.

Dr. Stockdale.

The good success of Dr. Stockdale has had with his numerous patients in this vicinity is the result of his thorough education and knowledge of the diseases he makes his specialty.

He can not cure all cases nor does he claim to. His careful mode of examination and familiarity with the slightest changes in the different organs enable him to tell at once whether or not a cure can be effected. His ideas are new and his methods the latest. He is not an old fogey, nor does he use methods that were in use years ago and which have been tried and proven unsuccessful. The doctor's next visit to Frankfort will be Thursday, January 19th, at his office Capital Hotel.

DROWNED WHILE SKATING.

The Ice on Benson Brooks and Job Smith, jr., Disappeared into the Water.

Saturday morning at eleven o'clock as Mr. Job Smith was skating on Benson creek, the ice broke with him near the point where the creek empties into the river. No one saw him at the time, but two men in a skiff heard his cry as he plunged beneath the ice and made every endeavor, by projecting poles at the place he disappeared, to rescue him but failed to accomplish their purpose. A number of people afterwards assisted in the search for the body, which was found within half an hour, about ten feet from where the accident occurred. At the residence of Mr. Jake Smith, sr., of Bellefonte, an uncle of the deceased, Coroner Dehoney held an inquest over the remains, which had been removed thither, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

Sunday afternoon the funeral took place at the Antioch Church, and the body was interred in the church cemetery in the presence of a large congregation of sorrowing friends.

The deceased was thirty-two years of age, a son of Mr. John H. Smith, of the county, and a cousin of County Clerk N. B. Smith. He was in the employ of Mr. Henry Mattern, the photographer, of this city, and was regarded a skilled man in the business. He was genial, reliable and industrious, and had a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely death.

How to Become Fleshy.

Dr. Miles Nervine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, Sciatica, dance, fits and hiccups, but also builds up the body. I am pleased to say that after years of intense suffering with nervous disease, headache and prostration, I tried Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and in two weeks gained eight pounds in weight. I could not wait to wait to become now almost perfectly fit, and am still improving wonderfully. Cannot say enough for the Nervine—MRS. L. B. MILLARD, Dunkirk, N. Y." "One customer used Nervine and gained fifteen pounds in flesh, says BROWN & MACBURY, Corlant, N. Y." Trial samples and elegant book free at 12 W. Gayles.

Noble Grand Ahler.

After the installation of Mr. Jake Ahler in the honorable position of Noble Grand of Capital Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., Monday night, he invited the members of the order to the number of thirty and more to a regular banquet at Sower & Ahler's, where to the music of Wolfe's orchestra, the guests sat down to a table and enjoyed a menu of oysters, game and all the good things to eat that the house could provide. The entertainment was concluded with coffee, cigars and speeches.

"Twilight Morn, Coast of Nova Scotia," "Impressions of Spring;" "An Instructive Musician;" "The Chill Mist;" and "A Haunted Wreck," receive special mention.

The Louisville Post this week appears to have learned the reason a Frankfort young man did not return home.

Mr. E. Watson Taylor another of the Kentucky contingent that served its country well in the Civil war, didn't return home with the others. Despite the blizzard from Dakota and the marrow-freezing winds that sweep in from lake and prairie, Chicago is said to be a very attractive place for the young handicapper. Indeed, if report be true, Mr. Taylor will probably lead to another one of the wealthiest and most beautiful of Michigan avenue's belles.

The pumps were set to work, coal thrown out of the boat and every effort bent to save the craft from going down in about twenty-two feet of water, and finally, after an hour or more, during which time a large number of people were looking on from the St. Clair street bridge in great expectancy at the operation, success crowned the labor of the men and the boat was saved from disaster in the ice-gorged waters.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

The Cities of Louisville and Cincinnati now Wrestling over High Prices of Coal.

The Kentucky River Improvement Necessary to Relieve Them.

An Old Document on the Subject Most Interesting Now.

In the Courier-Journal of December 30, 1887, the following article appeared, which, just at this time, is of great interest, both to this city and the cities of Louisville and Cincinnati, which are in the midst of the annual troublesome question of how to reduce the price of coal.

On opening of the Kentucky river of the great Eastern Kentucky coal field issues pressing importance in view of the coal famine, which is causing consumers immense sums of money, that the following communication of a committee of the Franklin Board of Trade to the Louisville Board of Trade:

FRANKFORT, KY., Decatur 29.—Harry Weisinger, Esq., President Board of Trade, Louisville—DEAR Sir: The undersigned, a committee appointed by resolution of the Franklin Board of Trade, to correspond with the Board of Trade, for the purpose of securing your co-operation in urging Congress to complete the slack water navigation of the Kentucky river, beg leave to present for your consideration the following statement regarding the importance of the work in question.

The Kentucky river has its source at the base of the Cumberland Mountains, in Eastern Kentucky, in three tributaries which, after traversing the Eastern Kentucky coal fields for nearly a hundred miles, unite at Beattyville, in Lee county, the whole being known as the Three Forks, near the western edge of the coal field. Thence for a distance of 281 miles it passes through thirteen of the richest bluegrass counties of the State, and, after flowing into the Ohio river, is nearly equidistant between Cincinnati and Louisville. Although confined to the limits of a single State, its importance as a navigable stream has long attracted attention. More than 50 years ago its improvement, as a slack water navigation, was begun by the State of Kentucky, and for nearly one hundred miles from its mouth it has been, through this means, made navigable for steamers of 300 tons burden. Valuable, however, as this has been for local commerce, it is still far from perfect, and within reach of the markets of Louisville, Cincinnati and other cities, its chief value has not been realized from the failure as yet to complete the slack water system to the Three Forks, and thus secure to the inhabitants of the coal fields of the State the abundant supply of coal, iron and timber which exists at its headwaters.

In 1880, Kentucky having expended more than one million dollars in the construction of locks and dams, following the precedent of West Virginia in the case of the Kanawha and Pennsylvania of the Monongahela, ceded to the United States without price these improvements and the river, to the end that the General Government might complete the system of slack water navigation to the Three Forks and give free navigation through its whole course. Since that period Congress has from time to time made appropriations sufficient to repair the original locks and dams so as to give free navigation through about one hundred miles, to place under contract a sixth lock and dam, and to build an experimental dam at the Three Forks, which has, after one year's trial, proven practically a failure. The object of which we seek your co-operation is to prevail upon Congress to change its policy of small annual appropriations, under which the completion of the system will be indefinitely postponed, and to make such provision as will enable the remaining 180 miles, or about one and six-tenths miles to be made navigable at the earliest practicable date, it being equally as feasible to place all the remaining locks and dams under contract at one time as to construct them by piece meal. We shall very soon by a detailed exhibit of the great quantity and superior quality of coal which will thus become accessible to the inhabitants not only of the State contiguous to its waters and of the cities to which we especially appeal for aid in this endeavor, but also to the Mississippi valley, and to the Ohio, which at such time and place as may be agreed upon in order to adopt the best line of action deemed necessary to compass the desired end.

We, therefore, in pursuance of the trust confided to us, and in furtherance of a scheme which has had the endorsement of the best engineering skill both of the State and Federal Government invite the co-operation of your intelligent body, and of some of your most prominent citizens in the object aimed at, to procure from Congress such legislation and appropriation as will lead to the speediest practical completion of the navigation of the Kentucky river.

That your action may take is of course submitted to your consideration, but we respectfully suggest that it be as such as will enlist your representatives in Congress in the zealous support of the measure and that you also appoint one or more representatives of your honor to meet with us and similarly representative of other states at such time and place as may be agreed upon in order to adopt the best line of action deemed necessary to compass the desired end.

In conclusion we beg to submit with the sincere hope that your attention will be drawn to the fact that this river offers a field as extensive as either the Kanawha or the Monongahela, and entitles it to equal consideration as the object of Congressional appropriation. For not only does it present an area of bituminous coal equal in quantity and quality to the fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, but also of cannel coal, unequalled in area in any part of the United States.

The present time, when a coal famine oppresses the Ohio and Mississippi valleys in consequence of protracted low water, renders it peculiarly appropriate to set forth the advantages of the proposed improvements as rendered the recurrence of such an evil impossible. With the Kentucky river made navigable to these coal fields at the Three Forks, Louisville, Cincinnati and the region intermediate between those points and the Ohio, a source of supply would be available for securing fuel which low water would not affect.

During the period in which you have been cut off from your supply from the Kanawha and Monongahela, although the drought in Kentucky has been as severe as in the Ohio, there has been no interruption to navigation from low water in the pools of the Kentucky river, and had the dams been continuous to the Three Forks, Louisville and Cincinnati, and the intermediate points cold have been supplied with scarcely any interruption from low water in the Ohio. So that if an estimate be made of the consumption of coal within these limits alone during the four months of scarcity the increased amount of coal for which no source of supply had been available would be more than pay for the proposed improvement.

It is estimated that it will require ten locks and dams to complete this system, at an estimated cost of $1,000,000, the daily consumption of coal at Louisville will be placed at 70,000, of New Albany and Jeffersonville at 20,000 bushels, Madison and points between Louisville and Cincinnati, and at 12,000 bushels each of points along and near the Kentucky river at 25,000, we shall have a total daily consumption of 270,000 bushels.

Estimating the excess in price of coal for this period at eight cents per bushel more than we paid under normal conditions, we have a daily sum of $6,000, or a total for 120 days of $2,592,000, which would build the dikes and dams and leave an excess of a quarter of a million. Or in other words, had a proper foresight led the large population of this heavily taxed state to demand from the General Government this expenditure so small in proportion to the millions annually contributed by the large internal revenue States interested, there would have been a saving of this sum to the consumers of fuel.

The climatic conditions of the Ohio by alternate freezing and thawing are said by scientists to be such as may lead to recurrence of this experience in the future, and it is the part of wisdom to guard against it.

There is no hope of making the Ohio navigable all the year or of having the coal mines of Pennsylvania or West Virginia accessible by water navigation uninterrupted, but here at hand is presented a feasible scheme by which cheap fuel can always be made available.

We, therefore, in pursuance of the trust confided to us, and in furtherance of a scheme which has had the endorsement of the best engineering skill both of the State and Federal Government invite the co-operation of your intelligent body, and of some of your most prominent citizens in the object aimed at, to procure from Congress such legislation and appropriation as will lead to the speediest practical completion of the navigation of the Kentucky river.

That your action may take is of course submitted to your consideration, but we respectfully suggest that it be as such as will enlist your representatives in Congress in the zealous support of the measure and that you also appoint one or more representatives of your honor to meet with us and similarly representative of other states at such time and place as may be agreed upon in order to adopt the best line of action deemed necessary to compass the desired end.

In conclusion we beg to submit with the sincere hope that your attention will be drawn to the fact that this river offers a field as extensive as either the Kanawha or the Monongahela, and entitles it to equal consideration as the object of Congressional appropriation.

For not only does it present an area of bituminous coal equal in quantity and quality to the fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, but Spencer Booker.

Our community was greatly shocked to learn of the death of Spencer Booker, a man man on the night of the 6th inst., after a short and painful illness. He was widely known and universally respected, and the sorrow at his untimely death is sincere and widespread. He leaves a wife and eight children—three sons and five daughters—to all of whom he was a faithful provider, a kind and gentle husband and father. Words can not describe the worth of their loss, more pathetic and indescribable than can ever be.

As a workman he was always in demand, and because of the superior quality of his labor, no less than the amount of it, he was able to command almost his own compensation. He enjoyed the favor and regard of all he ever met, and his character was spotless, his conscientiousness and his faithfulness. It will be many a year 'till one is found who can fill the peculiarly useful place he so long occupied. It seems a sad lot for so greatly needed to be cut down in the very prime of life, but we bow in silent sympathy over the bereaved wife and family, and offer our sympathies to all events which Spencer Booker earnestly tried to serve and do whose divine comfort and care will sustain them.

Friends assure me that he will be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless. *

THE SPANISH RECEPTION.

Queen Isabella, of Castille, will Receive Her Loyal Subjects
Next Friday Night

The Spanish reception at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Lindsay, on Wapping street, next Friday night, instead of as we announced last week, promises to be the social event of the season. Though no invitations are to be issued and the entertainment is open to all who choose to come and pay the admission fee of fifty cents, the interest of all the social circle has already been elicited and the success of the entertainment assured. The Queen has been selected for the occasion, who it is said will grace the throne room and most worthily wear the honors of Royal Isabella and the loveliest young ladies in the city will be chosen as her maids of honor. A request has been made of the people that they attend in Spanish costumes, as much as possible, and give the occasion the air and brilliancy of a royal court. Refreshments will be served to the guests, and rosettes of Spanish colors sold for a small price by a number of young ladies. The orchestra led by Prof. Wolfe, who has generously tendered it for the occasion, will discourse the sweetest and latest music. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the furnishing of a Kentucky parlor at the World's Fair, for which purpose all the Columbian Clubs of the State are endeavoring to raise the sum of $5,000. The club of this city is officered as follows: Mrs. Wm. Lindsay, President; Mrs. Jennie C. Morton, Secretary, and Miss Mag Russell, Treasurer.

Tickets for the royal reception are placed for sale at the State Library, Barrett's news depot and the store of Messrs. Sam D. Johnson & Co.

The cold snap which set in two weeks ago is still with us and the mercury has been hugging zero uncomfortably close. Tuesday morning it registered 4° above, moderated a little during the day but in the afternoon began to grow colder and at 7 o'clock in the evening many thermometers stood at zero. That night the mercury continued to drop and at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning stood at 8° below zero, many thermometers registered 10° and 13° below. The water pipes and water backs in stoves froze up and plumbers were in demand everywhere. Several persons came near being seriously injured by the explosions caused by making fires in stoves in which water in the coils of the water backs were frozen. At the residence of Capt. John W. Headley the coil in the kitchen stove exploded, blew the stove to pieces and scattered fragments around the room promiscuously. Wednesday the mercury rose twenty odd degrees and that night it snowed again, but Thursday the temperature began to drop and yesterday morning was only 2° above zero. The river is frozen over, the ice being six inches thick, and the price of coal is going up 2 or 3 cents per bushel a day.

Killed by Coal.

Robert Johnson, a young man about twenty-five years of age, an inmate of the Feeble-minded Institute, who was employed as a helper to the fireman at that institution, was instantly killed Thursday morning by a quantity of coal falling upon him from the large coal pile near the furnace door. Capt. Henry Wilson, the engineer at the institution, ordered the furnace early in the morning to tell Johnson not to wheel any coal to the fireman until after dinner and then to take it from another part of the pile, but when the fireman told Johnson said that he did not care what Capt. Wilson said, he was going to wheel the coal then, as he had help; and Capt. Wilson being temporarily absent from the engine room, he took his wheelbarrow and proceeded to the place where he had been taking coal from the pile. Another one of the inmates of the institution called to him to come away from there, as Mr. Wilson said he must not wheel coal until after dinner. He again replied he did not care, and taking a pick proceeded to dig the coal from the bottom of the pile, which undermined that at the top and caused about two tons to be precipitated upon him. He was buried so deeply that it required a half hour to remove the coal from over him, and when the body was finally gotten out life was extinct.

Johnson was sent to the Institution from Ohio county, and after being kept in school until it was demonstrated that he could not learn anything more, was assigned to work about the furnace and had filled the position of helper for some time. As he had no family or friends to claim the remains, the body was buried in the cemetery.

Coroner Dehoney was notified and with a jury held an inquest upon the body, a verdict being returned in accordance with the above facts.

A Enemy Baffled.

There is an enemy with whom thousands are familiar all over the world, who are born with a tendency to biliousness. With this enemy the world is continually battling. This enemy is known as the Bowels of the Human System. Bilestom's Stomach Bitters will help it. Mere purgatives will not reform a disordered condition on the liver indicated, not by constipation alone, but also by sick headaches, yellowish skin, dark eyes, and a general languor and uneasiness, more particularly upon pressure on the right side, upon and below the short ribs. It is a powerful purgative, removing the poisons from the intestines, and substitute this world-famous anti-bilious cordial, which likewise removes mucus and nervousness, as a laxative of the bowel, painless but effectual. It improves appetite and nervousness, and gives the system the additional advantage of a standard tonic.

A record of uninterrupted cures for nearly half a century has convinced sensible people that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best in the market. Why try new things when you know that you have what you need? It is invaluable.

King's Royal Germateur.

Pre-eminently the medicine of the century. Its phenomenal success as a seller and favorite with the people is the acknowledged wonder of the medicine world. Based upon the Germ theory of Diseases, it is unique, modern, and at once popular, commanding its place in the medical world firmly. It advertises best by its use. Specific for all Catarrhal diseases, a Nerve Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is without doubt the most reliable germ destroyer in existence, and to the extent that the germ theory is correct, King's Royal Germateur is the best. There is no accident but is the result of fifteen years study of medical genius. For sale by Chapman & Williams. 19

The United States Court.

In the United States Court this week the case of H. H. Quire, of this county, charged with sending an obscene letter through the mail, was dismissed, there being no proof found to sustain the charge.

The case of Charles Lee, adm'r of John Wiley, vs Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, for $25,000 damages for the death of Wiley, while crossing the railroad track in Carter county, returned a verdict for the defendant.

The grand jury did not have the case against Frankfort and Franklin county for the failure to raise the St. Clair street bridge, in compliance with the orders of the Secretary of War. District Attorney Jolley stated that he had too much business on hand to prepare the necessary papers, and the case will therefore pass over to the next term of the court.

The term closed Tuesday and Judge Barr and all the rest of the court officials returned to Louisville.

Unsolicited.

The following testimonial came to us: Kenyon & Thomas Co., Adams, N. Y.: "For the past two years we have received nothing but what doctors call eczema. During this time I have consulted several physicians and used a number of well-known remedies but could get relief, until finally I was urged to give your Syrup a trial. I cannot say enough in praise of them. At present I am as well as I ever was in my life and owe my sincere thanks to you for Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and Tea. Any one doubting the sincerity of this testimonial will confer a favor by addressing, very truly yours, N. J. McNABE."

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The New Members Sworn in and Organize the Board.

Seven of the nine new members of the City Council assembled at the council chamber Tuesday night and were duly sworn into office by the City Clerk, Chas. G. Payne.

There was a large crowd of onlookers interested in the distribution of the official crumbs. The names of the seven members are:

First Ward—C. C. Furr, Jacob Swigert.

Second Ward—Chas. L. Ellwanger, John E. Miles.

Third Ward—B. C. Milam, H. H. Watson, R. K. McClure.

Mr. John Brislan and Mr. George Reock failed to qualify as members of the board, the former by reason of an appointment as trustee of the jury fund, which makes him ineligible for both offices, and the latter because he was not an owner of real estate, as the city charter requires.

Councilman Furr was made chairman pro tem, and an election was then held to fill the vacancy in the board occasioned by the failure of Mr. Brislan to qualify.

Mr. M. P. Gray was unanimously chosen, and his election received an applause from the body.

The election of a member in the place of Mr. Reock was postponed.

The election of a President was then declared in order, and Mr. C. C. Furr and Mr. Ben Milam were nominated and on the first and second ballots each received four votes. Mr. Furr's name, by his request, was withdrawn and Capt. Milam was declared unanimously the President of the board.

The race for the clerkship, the best office within the gift of the council, next came up.

The candidates were Messrs. Chas. G. Payne, A. B. Hammond, Thos. L. Wiard and T. J. Todd. Mr. Todd won the first ballot, the voting resulting: Todd 5, Payne 1, Wiard 2.

The treasurer's race was a more exciting contest, three ballots being necessary to a choice.

The candidates were Messrs. W. P. Hudson, Jr., Frank W. Keys, A. H. McClure and Capt. Ed. Drane. The ballots stood:

First ballot—Hudson 1, Keys 2, Mc. Clure 3, Drane 2.

Second ballot—Hudson 0, Keys 3, McClure 3, Drane 2.

Third ballot—Hudson 0, Keys 2, McClure 5, Drane 1.

Mr. McClure was thereupon declared the treasurer.

The election of an assessor, clerk, bank and work-house keeper was postponed. Mr. Watson introduced a resolution that the tax books remain in the hands of the treasurer until February 3, and that the treasurer be authorized to receive and receipt for all taxes without penalty. This was adopted.

Mr. Furr proposed for nomination the following police and fire commissioners, who were accepted by the council:

S. R. Smith, George A. Lewis, J. B. Hendrick, R. W. McRory, V. Bergerich, D. W. Lindsey, J. L. Waggoner, J. M. Todd and J. W. Milam.

From this list the Mayor will select the board. Marshal B. B. Jeffers was sworn into office and fled his bond, with A. G. Jeffers, John C. Noel and S. J. Salyers as security, which was approved.

The council adjourned to meet next Tuesday night, when the President will have his standing committees and the Mayor his selection of the police and fire commissioners ready for announcement.

Mr. William T. Price, a Justice of the Peace, at Richland, Nebraska, was confined to his bed last winter with a severe attack of lumbago; but a thorough application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm enabled him to get up and go to work. Mr. Price says: "I am bound to say that your recommendation is too highly." Let any one troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia or lame back give it a trial and you will be one of the same opinion.

LOTTERY CASES — The arguments

GENERAL.

WORLD'S FAIR APPROPRIATION—The house on Tuesday, by a vote of 52 to 41, passed the Carroll bill appropriating $100,000 for Kentucky display at the World's Fair.

CINCINNATI ICE GORGE—The breaking of the ice gorge Friday and Sunday at Cincinnati occasioned an immense loss of coal, estimated at not less than $22,000. The towboat George Matheson was also crushed and sunk. The price of coal in consequence of the loss was advanced one dollar a ton.

LOTTERY CASES — The arguments in the lottery cases before the Court of Appeals were made on Tuesday by Commonwealth's Attorney Frank Parsons, of Louisville, and Major D. W. Sanders for the lotteries, and on Wednesday by Attorney General Hendrick for the State, and Senator John G. Carlisle for the lotteries. The cases were submitted.

LOUISVILLE'S BANK EMBEZZLER—Friday of last week it was supposed that Wm. H. Pope, the absconding bank teller of the Louisville City National Bank, had been caught at Starke, Florida, but Mr. James A. Leech, the Vice President of the bank, who made the trip there to identify him, failed on Sunday to do it, and ordered the release of the unknown captive.

River vs. Rail.

The Louisville Post of Thursday contained the following editorial pertinent to the question of coal and the speedy completion of the Kentucky river improvement, which is now receiving the attention of the citizens:

Years ago the city of Louisville voted to raise the river, under the order that it might always have cheap coal and not be dependent upon the uncertain river. Yet when the river freezes the price of Kentucky coal advances to a ruinous figure. It is easily demonstrated that the railroads can bring coal here and sell it at a profit, and that the railroads can make a fair profit, but when river competition ceases the price is quickly doubled. It is hard to understand exactly what Louisville gained by giving millions to these coal roads.
